Our Salerooms

Baffins Hall is in the heart of the historic city of Chichester, a few minutes from the mainline station and with several car parks in the immediate vicinity. It has been a furniture saleroom since 1913 and regular auction sales have been conducted here for nearly a hundred years. Prior to that it was a Unitarian chapel dating from 1672. Its wonderful barrel ceiling, original galleries and stained glass windows make a perfect setting for the sale of antiques and collectables. In 2008 there will be nine general monthly sales and three special Selected Antiques and Fine Art sales in April, July and October.

Valuation Service

We will be delighted to inspect and value items for future sales, free of charge and without obligation, at Baffins Hall, at your home for larger items or, for silver and jewellery, at your bank if this is more convenient. We also specialise in providing written valuations for insurance, probate and family division.

Valuation days are held regularly throughout the year, both in Chichester at Baffins Hall Salerooms and at Henry Adams' estate agency offices in the region. We have a range of experienced specialists and experts available to advise on all aspects of furniture and fine art generally.

House and Contents

Whether you are thinking of selling or just require an up to date idea on value, we provide a one stop service under one roof, with experienced advice covering both the house and the contents. To find out more, contact our Auction Office or any Henry Adams and Partners office.

Other Services

Apart from our Auction Division and salerooms, Henry Adams and Partners are well respected as one of the leading estate agents in the region. With twenty offices and The London Office in Pall Mall, we handle sales and lettings as well as properties abroad. From Chichester we also have a long established Agricultural Office and a major Development Land and New Homes operation, with experienced partners offering a highly professional service.
