"Taking account of change and taking on the challenge! Here at Henry Adams we make a point of understanding the local property market. All our staff are highly experienced and strive to provide a professional and quality estate agency service to our clients. But equally important is our team love what they do and this is reflected in the results that we achieve in both sales and lettings. Estate agents can only survive on recommendation and 98% of our clients would recommend us and use us again. We are genuinely proud of our reputation and look forward to our continued growth in Horsham and the surrounding villages"

"Having qualified as a Chartered Surveyor with the Valuation Office over 15 years ago I have now been working in Horsham for over 10 years based from our office in the middle of the Carfax.

Originally this was with the well established firm of Henry Smith, which has now benefitted from the merger with Henry Adams. This has resulted in a larger team of Chartered Surveyors bringing a wealth of experience covering the full spectrum of professional property services for our clients in Horsham and throughout Surrey, Sussex and Hampshire."

"I qualified as an Agricultural Chartered Surveyor in 1991 having read Agriculture at Edinburgh University. At Henry Adams we deal with a diverse range of farmers and rural based clients, and through our experience in all aspects of rural property, from Farm sales to Town and Country Planning, we are able to work with them to develop their businesses and grasp opportunities for the future."
